LATEST TELEGRAMS.

Murder in San Francisco.

San Francisco, 18.—News of an atrocious murder supposed to have been committed last Monday was suddenly revealed to-day. The murdered man is Nicholas Skerrett, real estate dealer, and a well-known resident of this city. The body was unexpectedly discovered in the closet of an empty house at 1129 Ellis street, belonging to the deceased, by a person who went in for the purpose of renting it. The stench on opening the doors disclosed suspicions of a crime having been committed, and without proceeding further the party reported the case to the police authorities. Search was made and the corpse was found lying on a small bench, in an advanced state of decomposition, but nothing to indicate by what manner he came to his death, beyond marks of blood on the stair case. Skerrett had been missing since last Monday, but it was supposed he had gone to Sacramento on business. The supposition was confirmed from the fact that two telegrams were received from there, bearing his signature, one addressed to Samuel Dixon, stock broker, and the other to Donohoe Kelly & Co., bankers, to the effect that he was engaged in selling some property, and would not return for several days. The only information so far obtained is that on Monday last, he was seen to enter the house, with three men from Nevada, who were negotiating for the purchase of the house, and two others adjoining, belonging to Skerrett. Shortly after the neighbors saw the three men come out of the house, but not accompanied by Skerrett. This fact did not excite suspicion, and the matter was forgotten until disclosed yesterday by the person who sought to rent the premises. Deceased was in possession of considerable wealth, aged sixty, with no relatives here except a young nephew. Expert detectives have been detailed to work the case up.

THE SIR KNIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA.

A Splendid Reception.

San Francisco, 18.—The arrival of the St. Bernard commandery, of Chicago was the event of the day. A delegation from the San Francisco commandery proceeded as far as Truckee, to welcome them to the Pacific coast. The special honors tendered them are in recognition of the welcome the latter gave to the Pacific coast Knights at the Chicago convocation. On their arrival this morning they were met at the ferry landing by the Knights of the city commandery, accompanied by Knights from Illinois now here; all in full dress uniform, after the exchange of greetings the knights fell into line, led by the Hawaiian band, and followed by the California commandery mounted. The Presidio band, Golden Gate commandery, St. Bernard band and St. Bernard community bringing up the rear. In this order they reached the Baldwin Hotel selected as the headquarters of the Chicago commandery. As an evidence of the marked attention paid them, one detail may be mentioned. Each cigar purchased for their use was provided with a band on which was painted, in colors, the name of their commandery while each box, specially made, was emblazoned with the device, St. Bernard. Mrs. Moulton, wife of the commander, was presented with a flower piece, three feet long and two in breadth, representing every variety of the choicest flowers of California. Including knights from Oregon and Washington territory, it is estimated that 3,000 persons arrived in this city within the last twenty-four hours.

A Jealous Janitor.

Chicago, 17.—An over zealous janitor of the Chicago National bank came near being lynched by an excited crowd, this morning, having been detected in the act of forcing his way into the main banking room. He had locked himself out and was anxious to retrieve his blunder, to the extent of battering down some of the transoms. His identity was discovered after he had been roughly handled by the crowd.

What it Did for an Old Lady.

COSHOCTON STATION, N. Y., December 28, 1878.

GENTS—A number of people had been using your Bitters here, and with marked effect. In one case, a lady of over 70 years had been sick for years, and for the past ten years has not been able to be around half the time. About six months ago she got so feeble she was helpless. Her old remedies or physicians being of no avail, I sent to Deposit, forty-five miles away, and got a bottle of Hop Bitters. It improved her so she was able to dress herself and walk about the house. When she had taken the second bottle she was able to take care of her own room, and walk out to her neighbor's, and has improved all the time since. My wife and children also have derived great benefit from their use.

Enjoyable Surprise.

On Friday last, it having come to the knowledge of a number of young men, friends of our esteemed and rustling citizen Nate Sears, that it was his birthday, they set to work to give him a surprise. Accordingly they mustered in force, and accompanied by the Twenty-first Ward Harmonica Band, proceeded to the residence of the gentleman, in the Twenty-first ward, where with the aid of music, toast and sentiment, a few hours were passed in joyful harmony. The party in separating wished Mr. Sears many happy returns of his natal day.

SODA SPRINGS.

SODA SPRINGS, Aug. 17, '83.

Editors Herald:

The fact that the number of visitors here this season far exceeds the showing of any previous year may be accounted for in the important railroad facilities acquired, together with a more general knowledge of the unsurpassed advantages of the mineral claims, which are asserting, with just claims, their superiority over the more popular in other localities. The accessibility of this pleasant retreat, augmented by the railroad extensions, has this season afforded the first general opportunity for establishing its popularity and true character, and as a matter of natural consequence parties are arriving daily from many of the Eastern cities where heretofore nothing has been known or even heard of Soda Springs and their health-imparting liquid.

Eastern gentlemen who have traveled extensively, declare that the boasted Colorado and Arkansas and even Saratoga springs, to which thousands in search of health and recuperation resort during the summer months, cannot compare with these, either in size or quality. This fact is associated with another equally important, viz: that while for the most part the popular watering places east suffer the unpleasantness of a hot, sultry atmosphere in summer, these phenomenal springs are situated in a part of the country where the heat rarely exceeds 80°, and even then the incessant breeze refuses to give place to sultriness. While, perhaps, in the majority of cases parties take recourse to the pleasant premises for the purpose of being benefited by the grand properties of the water, which by the way is working marvels, there are sufficient inducements in the cool, invigorating atmosphere and the easily accessible hunting and fishing retreats, to fairly fascinate even those who are not in any sense invalids.

In the presence of all these advantages and attractions there is little room for wonder at the action of the railroad company in obtaining a large interest here and creating permanent subsistence in the way of improvements which will secure the residence of a large number of workmen and add greatly to the business of the place. Nor can there be much cause for surprise when the announcement is made that eastern parties are already endeavoring to purchase little summer homesteads here, and that steps are being taken towards the erection of a large hotel and other accommodations. Messrs. Ephraim and Thomas Williams (the latter having recently joined his brother in the enterprise) are at present put to their wits end to dispose of their guests in the little hotel, which is wholly inadequate; notwithstanding which, however, the amiable hostess, Mrs. Williams, succeeds most admirably in keeping her visitors good natured and in spreading an exceptionally nice table, a feature, by the way, of no mean importance in this invigorating atmosphere. During the past week or two there have been visitors from New York, Boston, Denver, and other eastern points as well as from Salt Lake City and other adjacent places, all of whom, without exception, express their admiration in ecstasies. At present there are here, Howard Seebree, Esq., and family, Mrs. W. H. Hooper and family, and Miss Alice Dinwoodey. Dr. Cass and family of Denver, Mr. H. Hill, Mr. Phillips, Dr. Groves, Edsworth Daggett, Esq., and wife, Dr. Hamilton, and wife, and a large number of eastern ladies and gentlemen unknown to your correspondence.

Quite a number are coming over the Oregon Short Line, in doing which they incur, amongst other things not decidedly pleasant, increased fare, that is if they are booked from Ogden or points south, while the disagreeable feature of traveling all night is in itself objection enough. The route over the Utah & Northern to McCammon & Junction, where the night can be spent in the large hotel built and now being finished by the enterprising Mr. Harkness, proprietor of the extensive ranch there, is much more pleasant, landing the passengers in Soda Springs at 9.30 the following morning. But even this should be remedied, for no matter what the character of the accommodations may be at this stopping off place, it is not satisfactory in any degree to be dropped off early in the evening within forty-five miles of one's destination, with the prospects of waiting thirteen hours for the train. On this route the finest eating house between Omaha and the terminus in Montana is encountered at Logan—the Raitor & Eating house—admirably managed by Mr. G. H. Baugh. With the improvements which are already projected at Soda Springs a reasonable reduction on railroad fares, a through run without wait over, together with good waiting will undoubtedly make this one of the most popular resorts accessible.

CONGRESS OF WONDERS.

A novel entertainment is to be given at the Walker Opera House for five nights of next week, commencing on Tuesday evening, the 21st inst. It is called the "Congress of Wonders," for the reason that in it are embraced many human curiosities, and the low figure at which admission is put gives assurance of a large attendance nightly. The manager of the entertainment offers $1,000 reward if his claims in a number of regards can be controverted, by this means assuring the public that what is advertised to be given, will be actually performed and exhibited. Thus it is that they claim "Major Alem, the Midget" to be the smallest human being of his years since the creation. He is 14 years old, weighs 18 pounds, and stands 20 inches in height. Two-year-old children are large in comparison to "Major Alem." The "Man Fish and the Mermaid" are so called because of the great length of time which they remain under water in a large glass aquarium. They eat, work, smoke, write and knit under the water. Louis St. Clair, the double voiced vocalist, will sing duets by himself, in soprano and baritone. Then there is the Middleton Brothers' Pantomime company, Len Shiloto, the musical clown, who plays some thirty different instruments, the celebrated Imperial Marionettes, and other attractions, all of which will contribute towards making an entertainment that should be entertaining, pleasing and novel. The manager wants the public to discover some feature that is advertised and that cannot be found, or some portion of the entertainment that does not take place. A grand parade of the wonders is promised on Monday and Tuesday afternoons, when merchants, who desire it, may have opportunities of advertising their business.

Bathers' Cramp.

Some recent bathing fatalities have again drawn attention to the subject of bathers' cramp. If the nature and causes of this dangerous affection were more generally known it is probable that many deaths from drowning in the bathing season might be prevented. Cramp is a painful and toxic muscular spasm. It may occur in any part of the body, but it is especially apt to occur in the lower extremities, and, in its milder form, it is limited to a single muscle. Pain is severe and the contracted muscles are hard and exquisitely tender. In a few minutes the spasm and pain cease, leaving a local sensation of fatigue and soreness. When cramp affects the lower extremity, no swimmer or bather endowed with the average presence of mind need drown; but when cramp seizes the whole of the voluntary muscular system, as it probably does in the worst cases, nothing, in the absence of prompt and efficient exteraneous assistance, can save the individual from drowning. Although the intimate nature of muscular cramps, and the precise mode in which they are established, are still unknown, experience has furnished us with sufficient data on the subject to enable us to recognize the chief conditions of their causation. These conditions are a peculiar inacceptability or idiosyncrasy the shock of cold applied to the general surface of the body; prolonged muscular exertion, especially in the direction of the extension of the extremities. There can be no doubt about a liability to muscular cramp being an individual peculiarity. The disorder is especially apt to arise in persons of irritable temperament. While cramp has been met with in all ages, sexes, temperaments and climates, it has been observed that it occurs more frequently in warm climates than in cold, and chiefly in the hottest of warm climates, and that persons of middle age suffer most from the affection, and men more so than women, and the robust and vigorous more so than the weakly. Neither can there be any doubt that the shock of cold applied to the surface of the body,
